

SIMON SHAPIRO BETWEEN THE NOISE

Anything to Anyone

words and music by Simon Shapiro

To all reluctant acrobats
Pushovers and front door mats
Searching for a way out of abuse
You wonder why you're feeling used
You'd break your back before refuse

You've been exploited and exposed
You've changed the world but not your cloths
Now you really need somebody's help
In trying to please everyone else
You saved the world but lost yourself

Now you're not gonna be anything to anyone
While you're still trying to be everything to everyone
Well I'm saying nothing new, but it's not getting through... to you

The will to change will come along
When status quo is status wrong
I'm wondering will you drown or will you float
But you don't wanna rock that boat
You'll drift asea and stay afloat
You better rock the boat

Cos you're not gonna be anything to anyone
While you're still trying to be everything to everyone
Well I'm saying nothing new, but it's not getting through... to you

The will to change will come along
When status quo is status wrong
Will you drown or will you float
Sink at sea or stay afloat

You're not gonna be anything to anyone
You're not gonna be, you're not gonna be

You're not gonna be anything to anyone
While you're still trying to be everything to everyone
Well I'm saying nothing new, but it's not getting through I'm reaching out my hand, but it's not reaching you
To make you understand, there's nothing I can do
