

SIMON SHAPIRO BETWEEN THE NOISE

I Wanna Fly Like Superman words and music by Simon Shapiro

Love and hate play tug-of-war...we are soldiers one and all
Marching in the battlefields of mind
Self-destruction will caress ...the sweet seduction of progress
We are the victims and villains of our time

And we paint the world with lies
But they're the ones who'll have to pay
As history reads between the lines
All the meaning's swept away

I wanna fly like Superman...be the hero of the land
Save the world with my bare hands
Coz I can hear the people cry...Through my window watch them die
But I don't wanna stand by

History turns a page on us ...the golden age of broken trust
Betrayal of the deepest kind
Technology will veil the trutha generation waits for proof
That they're not running out of time

We throw our money into the sky
Leave the world below to die
We are so generous with words.....generous with lies

I wanna fly like Superman...be the hero of the land
Save the world with my bare hands
Coz I can hear the people cry.....through my window watch them die
But I don't wanna stand by

We throw our money into the sky
Bleed the world until it's dry
We are so generous with words...generous with lies

I wanna fly like Superman.....be the hero of the land
Save the world with my bare hands
Coz I can hear the people cry.....through my window watch them die
But I don't wanna stand by
I wanna fly like superman.....be the hero of the land
Save the world with my bare hands
Coz I can hear the people cry.....through my window watch them die
But I don't wanna stand by

Love and hate play tug-of-war, we are soldiers one and all
Marching in the battlefields....
